AN ORGANIZED PRESENTATION

City Allocates $2500 For Data On Freeways

The task of making Daly City's "voice" convincing in the fast-approaching showdown meetings on the freeway route was expedited Monday night as the city council approved plans for a citizens' steering committee and authorized $2500 from gas tax funds to help this group prepare a factual report for presentation to the State Division of Highways.

Councilman Francis Pacelli, chairman of the city freeway committee, said his group would need at least $2500 to compile an exacting report on the routes studied by the state.

Time, of course, is of essence, he stressed, because state officials will set up public hearings here on the freeway routes in late March or early April.

Pacelli said the freeway committe's plan is to have a fully factual report on all the state-studied routes, specifying what each would mean to Daly City in loss in tax revenue, disruption of homes, and interruption to business.

The route the city committee prefers, down Junipero Serra, must be backed, Pacelli went on, by substantial facts to "convince the state we are right in our choice of a route."

Pacelli said the steering group would report on the routes from every angle, with professional engineering data, citing the loss in assessed valuation, needs of the school districts, the stand of the Chamber of Commerce and Daly City businessmen, et cetera.

Pacelli said the important thing was that Daly City be organized and unified in making its stand before the State Highway officials. He hinted recent freeway hearings in South San Francisco were a farce, since that city's presentation to the state was disorganized and comparatively feeble.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi stressed that Daly City should continue this "united front" outlook on freeways by coordinating all efforts with similar committees in neighboring Peninsula cities which also will be invaded by new routes.

DeBernardi said SSF and Pacifica officials were anxious to discuss freeway problems with Daly City. He suggested this cooperation Thursday at the North County Council of Cities meeting in South SF.

Pacelli said his committee plans to meet soon with Pacifica officials to agree on a satisfactory east-west route off the Junipero Serra freeway.

Verducci, backed by City Manager George Watts, agreed the $2500 from gas tax funds for the steering committee was a good move since the city engineering staff already is overloaded with work.

New city finance director Joseph Arch said gas tax funds could be used for this report, citing cases where other California cities did likewise.

$2600 PAINT JOB DUE ON WAR MEMORIAL

As soon as weather permits, Daly City's War Memorial building will undergo a complete outside paint job — its first since it was built.

The council awarded the job to Modern Painting and Decorating Company, a local firm, Monday night. The cost will be $2600.

Public Works Director Otis Calhoun said the other bidder for the contract, though lower in cost, had to be disqualified because of license difficulties.

Calhoun said the $2600 was about $400 over his estimate for the work, but that the winning bidder apparently submitted a fair price.

Tidewater Awarded Gas, Oil Contract

Tidewater Oil Company, the low bidder, Monday night was granted the contract to supply Daly City municipal vehicles with gas and oil the next 12 months.

City Manager George Watts estimated the gas and oil under the contract will cost the city $2800 for a year.

$1.3 MILLION LAST MONTH

Construction Still At Peak Pace Here

New construction in Daly City last month continued to draw the attention of San Mateo County's other rapidly growing communities.

According to Maurice Clark, assistant city building inspector, a total of 110 building permits were issued here in January on new construction valued at $1,341,845.

Eighty-eight of these permits went for new Doelger and McKeon homes. Doelger took out 54 more permits totaling $737,421 in valuation and McKeon got 32 permits for homes in St. Francis Heights with a valuation of $495,861.

The January total included: Fourteen dwelling alterations, $19,333; four commercial alterations, $58,080 ($51,930 at Town and Country Market in Westlake to pave the way for a new drug store), and four neon signs, $1350.

Construction of new homes in Doelger's new unit south of Westmoor avenue and those in McKeon's development south of Eastmoor avenue figure to keep Daly City's monthly totals on new buildings well over the $1 million mark.

Dan Casentini Quits Post On Library Board

Resignation of Dan Casentini, 86 West Cavour street, from the city library commission, was accepted "with regret" Monday night by the city council.

Casentini said business and family commitments were taking so much of his time that he would be unable to continue on the library board.

A replacement may be named at the February 23 regular council meeting.

Terms of six other members of city commissions end this year These include Harry Bosberry, chairman of the personnel board, this May; Dutch Elston and Tony Giammona, recreation commission, this May; Maude Hanselman, library commission, in June; and Art Colvin and Richard T. Dwyer, planning commission, in August.

NINE-YEAR-OLD

DC Leukemia Victim Badly Needs Blood

Michael Jiminez, 9-year-old Daly City youngster is battling leukemia at UC Hospital in San Francisco and blood donors are needed to aid his cause.

In and out of the hospital the past 18 months, Michael, whose parents live at 1056 Brunswick street, is in very serious condition, his dad, Manuel, told this newspaper today.

"He's had blood transfusions each week and the supply is running out," the distraught father said.

Persons who would like to give their blood should call his father at JU 5-0155 or PL 5-0604 as soon as possible. The donations will be accepted at the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Francisco, 270 Masonic avenue, JO 7-6400.

Manuel, a printer at 6207 Mission street, and his wife, Mary, have three other children — Margaret, 13; Manuel Jr., 12, and Matthew, 7.

MORE STUDIES ON SIGNALS FOR MISSION

Still pushing for action, the city council learned Monday that the State Division of Highways is still studying a request for traffic signals on Mission street at Moltke-Mission and Mission-School streets.

A letter to Public Works Director Otis Calhoun from state officials said the latter had ruled out signals for the corner of Mission at Citrus, since volume of traffic there was insufficient to warrant the devices, the state pointed out.

The city's plea for signals on Mission dates back many years. It has been intensified more recently because of increased dangers to Jefferson High School students and youngsters crossing Mission to enter War Memorial Community Center.

The Mission-School crossing is the major traffic bottleneck and appears the most likely spot to win state approval for signals. Price street would be involved in this installation and a center island down Mission probably would have to be constructed.

Public feeling for signals on Mission was expressed Monday night in a letter from Mrs. Clyde Yaeger, 465 San Diego avenue. Her daughter, Jackie, suffered permanent brain damage on June 22, 1957, when she was struck down by a car while attempting to cross Mission at Alp street.

Mrs. Yaeger said she hoped the council would exhaust every effort to get signals to prevent further tragedies.

The hazards at the Knowles-Mission crossing will soon be reduced as the contract for signals there has been awarded and work is expected to begin momentarily.

Council Seeks To Rectify OLM 'Blockade'

Heeding a firmly-worded letter from Father Richard Power, the city council Monday night moved to ease the "blockaded" status of Our Lady of Mercy church and school on its easterly boundary, caused by two wooden fences and a concrete bulkhead built by Doelger Corporation.

Father Power charged that these barriers were constructed without notification to the parish and were denying parishioners ingress and egress to Our Lady of Mercy church, school and playyard.

These barriers consist of six-

CHARTER STUDY COMMITTEE TO MEET MONDAY

A council-appointed committee of 10 citizens will meet for the first time next Monday night at city hall to begin a study on charter government.

Councilmen added three more names to the group this week, bringing committee membership to eight. Two other appointments are due by this Friday.

Councilmen Bob St. Clair and Francis Pacelli each have one more apointment to make. St. Clair Monday named Donald Lesher, 417 Castle street, to the charter committee. Pacelli appointed Ed Molkenbuhr,, 296 Wilshire avenue.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi chose Joseph Schultz, 548 Atlanta street. Last week, DeBernardi submitted the name of Peter J. Markovich, 160 Northgate avenue.

Councilman Edward Dennis appointed John B. Drye, 98 Montrose, and Walter Gillies, 212 Frankfort. Councilman Joseph Verducci named Mrs. Grace Woods, 181 Wilshire, and Donald Gordon, 97 Lake Forest drive.

The mayor prompted the charter government study last month. He believes the 'pros and cons" of the charter system should be investigated by the committee. The latter group then will report on whether it is practical for Daly City.

JESD Faces More Double Sessions ...Next September

With a return to double sessions a definite expectation this September, Jefferson Elementary School District administrators and trustees are beset by constant problems as enrollment continues to mount.

According to Dr. Vinton Stratton, director of instruction, enrollment in the district's 13 jammed schools last month totaled 6571 pupils — an increase of 60 over last September and 695 more than the district accommodated in January of 1958.

Stratton said that last month alone, 44 new students, most from the new subdivisions south of the city, entered district schools.

The district went off double sessions in June last year, but shortage of classrooms and increased enrollment this fall will necessitate a "temporary" return to the double session schedule in a few of the schools.

Trustees and the administration have exhausted all efforts to complete new schools. At least five new kindergarten-through-sixth-grade schools are due to open here in 1960— thus double sessions expected this fall may be short-lived.

The district's timetable on the new schools, confirmed by Supt. H. Z. Weibel and Asst. Supt. David Shapiro, has three schools opening in January next year, the Westlake Basin (Fernando Rivera) school due about June of 1960, and M. Pauline Brown School in St. Francis Heights due in December of 1960. This is if all goes as planned.

Architect Angus McSweeney is right on schedule with the three schools due next January. These are the Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Edison schools in Westlake Unit 10 and Daniel Webster in St. Francis Heights subdivision. All three projects go out to bid this June and will take six months to build, according to the veteran SF architect.

Architect Mario Ciampi is designing the Rivera School on the basin property and the M. Pauline Brown plant at the northern tip of the St. Francis Heights development.

The district also expects to have three classroom additions completed at Olympia School in Westlake by next January—

New Reservoir Is 'Concrete' By 4-1 Edict

The city council by 4-1 vote Monday night approved plans and specifications for Daly City's sixth reservoir—a concrete structure to be located east of Skyline. It will supply residents in the new subdivisions of Doelger, McKeon and Callan.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi stuck to his guns and voted "no," repeating his preference for a steel structure. Though more costly, the mayor said steel would be better in view of the earthquake factor and

FRIDAY INSTITUTE

Elementary District Looks Into Science

This Friday, the staff of Jefferson Elementary School District will be working on the up-grading of the district's science program, at a district-wide Institute.

While JESD pupils enjoy a day off, teachers, principals, and others of the district's teaching force will be examining, comprehensively, the DC Heath and Harcourt Brace science textbooks recently adopted for use next year in California schools. Teachers' copies of these series have been purchased by the district ahead of time, so that teachers may have the opportunity to become familiar with them prior to the date of anticipated use.

In addition to the review of new textbooks, teachers will examine and experiment with the district's newly-acquired science equipment. Teachers' requests, principals' expressions of concern, and the results of a district — wide inventory of science materials in JESD classrooms, taken earlier this year, have combined to point up the need for supplying certain materials to classrooms in order to facilitate more effective instruction in science.

"The equipment purchased," according to Leonard Herbst, curriculum consultant, "is not expensive stuff. Actually, it represents a minimum ordering of items necessary to perform the experiments called for in the new state science texts."

Such items as magnets, pulleys, compasses, dry cell batteries, electric bells, funnels, glass tubing, magnifying glasses, prisms, rubber tubing, test tubes, seeds, etc. have been boxed and distributed to each school. Separate boxes have been made up for each grade

The mother charges the diagnosis was incorrect and the boy contacted encephalitis (sleeping sickness), resulting in a speech impediment and difficulty in walking. THE RECORD photo

All Leads Thus Far Dead Ends

Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore and Daly City police today issued an urgent appeal to persons who may have seen murdered August Norry shortly before he was killed 12 days ago in the Crocker hills.

All leads thus far have failed to produce anyone. Whitmore and local authorities haven't been able to locate the young blonde woman who was seen driving Norry's sedan off Peoria street the night of February 1.

A worker near the old army base where Norry's body was found, said he saw the victim that day running towards a woman who had a bulldog on a leash. This woman was not described as a blonde and she is not a suspect, Daly City police pointed out. But she may have some information that may lead to more clues on the murderer's identity.

Capt. Roy Beecher, in charge of the investigation here, today urged any persons who think they may have valuable information on the case to contact his office, PL 5-0850, or the county sheriff's department, EM 8-3911.

Whitmore hasn't changed his opinion that a revengeful woman is the killer. A Daly City youngster was dead-certain a blonde woman was driving Norry's car the evening of his death.

In fact, the blonde driver almost ran the witness down near the Lovers' Lane turnoff at Peoria street. This witness steadfastly maintains that the woman's vehicle was Norry's. He gave police an exact description of the auto before they showed it to him.

Council Hires New Fireman, Speeds Station

Hacking off a few more points in the fire underwriters report, the city council Monday night unanimously backed Edward Dennis' motion to immediately hire another full-time fireman.

At the same time, Architect John W. Gloe of Westlake was instructed to complete final plans for the $85,000 new fire station at the corner of Edgemont drive and Lincoln avenue south of Westmoor High School.

This project will go out to bid in about six weeks and the station should be ready by this August, according to City Manager George Watts.

Watts said that once the station is ready, more firemen will be hired to staff it. Addition of the station and increased personnel will reduce the number of deficiency points assessed against Daly City by the underwriters in the report which boosted insurance rates here.

Dennis said hiring the new fireman March 1 is possible due to surplus funds in the fire department's salary budget. The newcomer will be selected from the present eligibility list which expires this week. The council

STIFFER PENALTIES

Francis Pushes New Legislation To Cover 'All' Drunk Drivers

Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County this week introduced in the state legislature the final bill of a series of eight this session providing for jail terms and heavier penalties for all offenses of drunk driving, drunk flying, and drunk motor boating.

The seventh bill prohibits the operation of a vehicle while under the combined influence of an intoxicating liquor and a drug or narcotic. For those convicted of such an offense, the Francis bill provides for imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than five years in jail or a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $500, or both.

This and other legislation relating to drunk driving were recommended by the San Mateo County Grand Jury, San Mateo County Law Enforcement Association, and grand juries in other California counties to fill gaps in the present laws.

Francis won nationwide recognition in 1957 as the author of California's new stringent drunk driving laws, providing for heavy fines for all offenders and mandatory jail sentences for those convicted of second misdemeanor offenses.

Since the enactment of the 1957 laws, the number of deaths on California highways have decreased over 300 in spite of an increase of nearly a million more automobiles. Millions of dollars of property damage have also been estimated to be saved.

The state legislator said the new bills will supplement the 1957 stiff laws and strengthen California's anti-drunk driving program considerably.

Toughest of the new measures is the one which would provide a mandatory minimum jail sentence of not less than 15 days in jail and a fine of not less than $500 on a second or subsequent conviction of drunk driving causing bodily injury. It also broadens the present law to apply to drunk driving offenders who operate a vehicle on any street, alley, or road as well as on a highway.

Francis explained the new law for felony drunk driving convictions is necessary because some judges have leniently let off a defendant in the cases involving bodily injury by suspending the jail sentence and fine. On misdemeanor convictions, the judge does not have this power or discretion, and consequently, in some cases a defendant convicted of drunk driving not involving bodily injury recives a greater penalty.

"This is not fair," said Francis, "and certainly contrary to the intent of the state legislature. In 1957 and many years before, we did not have this problem because the judges were tough in felony cases where bodily injury occurs. Now a few of them are circumventing the principle of the law by this means."

Another Francis bill would make the misdemeanor and felony provisions of the drunk driving laws applicable to operators of motor boats, airplanes, bicycles, and other vehicles moved by human power. Another bill provides that drunk operators of aircraft would be fined, jailed and lose their licenses for one year upon conviction.

Other bills, all introduced by Francis, are:

A bill to provide voluntary chemical tests of drivers suspected of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. This proposed legislation would create a presumption of no intoxication if there is .05 per cent or less by weight of alcohol in the blood; there would be no presumption if between .05 and .15; and there would be a rebuttable presumption if .15 or more. This measure was also sponsored by the grand juries.

Another bill permits suspend-misdemeanor drunk driving second convictions, providing that at least the mandatory minithat at the mandatory minimum of five days jail sentence and $250 fine are imposed. The purpose, according to Francis, is to allow the courts to have a "club" of an additional jail term or greater fine over the head of the drunk driver released after five days who may repeat the offense within a short time.

A bill to increase the maximum fine for reckless driving from $250 to $500. Francis explained that in many drunk driving cases the charge is reduced to reckless driving because of certain circumstances. This measure permits the judge to fine the defendant according to the seriousness of his misconduct.

foot wooden fences at the ends of Bel Mar and Terrace streets and a 20-foot high concrete wall at the end of Westbrook, connecting with the Ocean Shore railroad property next to the parish.

The spiritual leader of OLM, recognizing that the barriers were keeping dirt and debris off surrounding homes, nonetheless said the structures were denying parishioners and students adequate access to OLM and could hamper the parish's building plans. He also cited safety hazards and wondered who would be liable in case a child were hurt climbing on these barriers. The council said the fences were on city property and the Doelger company was responsible.

Father Power asked the council to get Doelger to construct an opening in the fence at Bel Mar, similar to the one already made at Terrace, and also for a stairway or ramp around the concrete bulkhead on Westbrook.

The council also agreed that signs should be posted at all three spots to notify residents that the walls are temporary.

City Manager George Watts said he would present the problem to Doelger officials immediately.

added two new firemen last October and intended to hire four more this July, Watts said: After Monday's action, the council said it would add three new firemen in July and more when the new station is operational.

The station will be on a 150x150-foot lot which will be sold to the city by the high school district for a "mutually agreeable" price of $11,718.

The new station will be paid for out of capital outlay funds, Watts said, and Gloe confirmed Monday his estimate on costs are within the $85,000 appropriation.

JESD Faces More Double Sessions

another Ciampi project.

In addition, Ciampi has the contract for designing two classroom additions to Jefferson School on Alemany street (replacing old Jefferson Annex), the Ben Franklin School music room (due this October), and the Meussdorfer-Pershing nine classroom school on Hanover street near the SF and San Mateo county line.

McSweeney last week was given the contract for designing a five-classroom replacement for the present Pershing School at 631 Hanover street.

Definite dates of completion for the Jefferson and two Pershing projects can't be pinpointed by the administration and school board.

The district is negotiating with property owners in the move to enlarge Jefferson on Alemany, though this project hasn't received full board approval. Trustees Tom Noonan and Frank Verducci aren't so sure this project is practical in view of expected student enrollment in other areas.

The Meussdorfer-Pershing plan, critically delayed by San Francisco opposition to a slight encroachment on their territory, hinges on the willingness of Irene Meussdorfer to sell her property to the district. Her residence occupies a major and central portion of the nine-classroom school site. All other property owners involved in this transaction have agreed to sell.

The Pershing replacement involves the acquisition of homes from persons next to the present school on Hanover and a few behind the school on Risel street.

Stratton's breakdown on enrollment by schools shows that Ben Franklin (grades 5 through 8, Vista Mar (K through 3), Garden Village (K through 4) and Woodrow Wilson (K through 5) are the most seriously overcrowded.

Ben Franklin has 1034 students, Vista Mar 706, Garden Village 678 and Woodrow Wilson 650.

Enrollment at the other schools:

Colma Primary (K-6), 560; Colma Intermediate (7 and 8), 553; Westlake (K-5), 527; Jefferson (K-6), 397; Gen. Pershing (K-3), 380; Olympia (K-4), 345; Crocker (K, 4 through 6), 355; Vista Grande (K-4), 253, and Thornton (4-6 and mentally retarded), 133.

Enrollment in the district by grades finds 1061 in kindergarten, 875 in first grade, 790 in second grade, 757 in third, 730 in fourth, 686 in fifth, 595 in sixth, 569 in seventh, and 476 in eighth.

The district has 24 students in mentally retarded classes and educates eight blind youngsters.

level, containing equipment determined by the experiments to be conducted at the respective grade levels. Also, each school has a "central supply" box containing items to be used in common by all grades. This has made economies possible by minimizing duplicate purchases of items, the use of which overlaps several grades.

Teachers not directly involved in the teaching of science are being assigned for this Institute Day to visitation of classrooms in other school districts. Cooperating districts, which will provide classroom observations for visiting JESD teachers, include San Mateo, San Bruno, Laguna Salada, Redwood City, and San Carlos. Dr. Vinton Stratton, JESD assistant superintendent for Instruction, reports that "these districts have been most cooperative in making arrangements to receive those of our teachers who will be making inter-district visitations. Several of the districts indicated that they look forward to reciprocating in the future, since they regard this procedure to be of genuine value in the in-service education of teachers."

SCOUTS TAKE THE SPOTLIGHT

This is National Boy Scout Week and once again time to salute the men as well as the youngsters who are active in the ever-expanding program.

Daly City's Boy Scouts come under the jurisdiction of the Lake Merced District—second largest in the San Francisco Council with some 2100 members. In this community alone there are 800 Scouts—and there should be many more.

Robert C. Hunter, Lake Merced District chairman, says the program has no limits as new subdivisions develop and the area becomes more close-knit.

But there's a tremendous need for more parents to help further the program by serving as leaders and assistants.

Scouting—at all age levels—teaches many valuable lessons in citizenship, respect for the rights of others, and above all—understanding.

Each boy becomes more of an individual and is advanced according to his interest and performance.

If your sons aren't enrolled in a pack, troop or post, do them a favor. Get them to join and encourage their participation.

There is no finer outlet for the youth of any community.

Goal Is $90,000

COUNTY CANCER SOCIETY ISSUES CALL FOR APRIL VOLUNTEERS

A county-wide call for volunteers — particularly in Daly City—to undertake the big job of a house-to-house canvass for the 1959 annual fund drive of the San Mateo County Cancer Society in April was issued today by President Mrs. Albert A. Hedge.

The goal this year is $90,000, a sizable boost over last year's total which the society topped with a record high to rank No. 1 in the state.

With the continuing growth of the county, the task of covering every home gets bigger each year, noted Mrs. Hedge.

"Last year the county was covered by a volunteer corps of about 4000 of the hardest working men and women who ever tackled the fund-raising job for the Cancer Society," she said. "We are eternally grateful to them, and we hope that as many—and more will be available to lend a hand this year, too," said Mrs. Hedge.

Of the amount collected, 40 percent stays to help cancer victims in this county, she explained. A total of 28 percent goes into national research, 12 percent for education and administration, and 20 percent for state grant-in-aids and refresher courses.

As part of the local educational program, speakers and special films are available for showing at all local club meetings upon request at the Cancer Society office, located at 320 Third avenue in San Mateo.

Mayor Pumping Gas At New Location Here

DeBernardi, who lives at 172 East Vista, has taken over the Flying A station at the southwest corner of Mission and School streets.

For the past 3½ years, the mayor has operated the Westlake Richfield gas station in partnership with Frank Monte, a Westlake resident.

Ethel B. Hahn Heads W-Wilson Founders' Night

Mrs. Ethel B. Hahn, principal of Woodrow Wilson School and Founders' Day chairman, will present the Founders' Day Program at the unit meeting next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-use room.

Woodrow Wilson is one of the original PTA's in the Seventeenth District, and Mrs. Hahn's mother, the recently deceased Mrs. Lillah Brown, was its first president. Many acceptances have already been received from past presidents and former recipients of honorary life memberships.

Three new recipients of the award will be announced by Mrs. Mendel Plansky, Honorary Life Membership chairman.

4 Youths Get 'Duty To God' Scout Awards

Four San Francisco youths have received one of the highest awards in scouting for members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The "Duty to God" awards were presented recently at special Sunday evening services to Bradley Civiello, 131 Clearfield drive; Paul Eldredge, 563 Victoria street; Robert Mar McGregor, 385 Santa Clara avenue; and Donald W. Patterson, 2425 Yorba street.

The awards were presented by Bishop Willard B. Barton of the Balboa Ward, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 22nd avenue and Lawton. The young men are all members of Explorer Post 92, sponsored by the church group.

The pins, which hang on colored ribbons, are shaped in the form of an oxen head to commemorate the early pioneer history of the church. They were sent from church headquarters in Salt Lake City.

In making the presentation, Bishop Barton noted that four years of active scouting and church work are required to earn the awards. Not only must the boys be advanced scouters, but they must have outstanding records of church activity.

Oscar C. Alverson, San Francisco Council Scout Executive for the Boy Scouts of America, was guest speaker for the special Scout Sunday services. He complimented the four youths for their accomplishments and the church for its advanced youth program. He noted that the religious aspects of scouting and the inclusion of duty to God and reverence in the Scout Law were added to the scout program when it was adopted by America from its English origin.

ADULT SCHOOL TEACHES SCIENCE, FIRST AID, DRIVER TRAINING

Sign-ups are now being taken for three courses to be offered by the Jefferson Adult School—General Science, Advanced First Aid and Driver Training for bus drivers.

Reservations can be made by phoning PL 5-1162 during the daytime or in person during the evening at the Jefferson Campus. Instruction will be given as soon as 25 signatures are obtained in any one class. All classes will be in session at least two hours twice a week.

The General Science class is designed to meet the district's graduation requirements and will cover the basic theoretical principles of sound, light, heat, mechanics, electricity, as well as their practical application of everyday living and industrial use. New advances in science will be discussed and when feasible will be demonstrated by experiment or audi-visual aids.

The Advanced First-Aid, a 20-hour course, is designed for those who have already passed the first course and wish to expand their background or who because of their responsibility must teach others. The course is highly recommended for camp leaders, youth agency personnel, fire or police departments.

Driver-training for bus drivers is an extension of the popular Driver Training Education course very popular with North County residents. According to John Ivan, director of the Jefferson Adult School, the proposed course will be the first in this area and one of the few offered in the state. The purpose is not to qualify personnel for direct employment as school bus drivers, but rather to introduce the theory of school transportation and gives practice in handling the large 70-passenger buses used by school districts.

A $20 fee is charged for the five-week training program with no charge for the five-week theory course which precedes the behind-the-wheel instruction. This course is open only to those over 21 who have a valid California operator's license. For further information, phone PL 5-1162.

'BATTLE OF FOOTAGE' ON FOR OCEANA

The biggest problem on the agenda at Monday's meeting of Jefferson High School District trustees was the Oceana High School project in Sharp Park.

Architect Mario Ciampi presented plans to the board, citing he has a "tough problem" meeting the educational needs with the limited footage allotted to each department.

The general scienec and physics department, for instance, is assigned approximately 5000 square feet. The problem is to design it within those limits and also to afford maximum room for equipment. Superintendent Edward Morgan called the Sharp Park project "the battle of the square footage."

The school Ciampi has designed will be semi-circular with a separate gymnasium building. Everything else will be incorporated in the main structure, including the library, administration offices, and luncheon facilities for students and teachers.

5 Jeff Adult School Classes Already Filled

The record semester of the Jefferson Adult School opened with standing room only in many of the classes.

Auto Shop, Wood Shop, Citizenship, English Usage, and Driver Education, were filled to capacity and no further registrations are being taken at this time. However, "there is no cause for alarm," stated John Ivan, director of the Adult School. There is ample room in other shops and class room areas. Should the demand continue, classes will be expanded and other times will be used to fill the demand.

Next week will be the last week of registration for those who plan to work on their high school diplomas although registration will be accepted any time for those not planning to work for credit. A brochure listing available classes and times can be had by phoning PL 5-1162.

410 Auxiliary Presents Guide On Scholarships

A new guide to hundreds of college scholarships available to qualified high school students of this area has been presented to Jefferson High School and Daly City Public Library by Daly City Unit 410 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The 76-page publication, which has just been revised for use during the 1958-59 school year, has been recognized as one of the major scholarship guides now being issued in the United States. While it gives special listings of scholarships which have been established for children of veterans, particularly children of deceased veterans, it also lists many other scholarships and educational aids which have been made available to young people generally.

Mrs. Jean Chauses, education and scholarship chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, stated that thousands of young people have failed to take advantage of generous educational aids which have been offered.

She mentioned in particular the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act of 1956 which provides up to $110 per month in educational help for sons and daughters of veterans who lost their lives in or as a direct result of military service in time of war. A fairly large portion of the young people eligible for this help have failed to apply, Mrs. Chauses said.

She also urged high school students to start making plans for their higher education by no later than their junior year. "The boy or girl who starts checking scholarship sources and making arrangements early is the one with the best chance of going to school," she said.

The American Legion scholarship guide, which is entitled, "Need A Lift," is available for the use of interested students, parents and high school officials. The publication is now in its eighth edition, and more than a quarter of a million copies of the popular handbook have been distributed since it was first issued in 1951.

'Tommy's Heart Operation' Movie To Be Shown By Westmoor PTA

"Tommy's Heart Operation," a 105-minute telecast which recently won a top Sylvania award, will be presented by the San Mateo County Heart Association on Thursday evening, Feburary 26, at Westmoor High School.

Mrs. Alfred Boreni of Sharp Park, president of the Westmoor PTA, arranged the showing through the Heart Association. The movie will be shown at 8 p.m.

Heart Association doctors emphasize that this movie is presented as a free public service, with no contributions being asked. "It is designed primarily for the general public," they said, "with the entire sequence understandable at the adult level."

According to Richard R. Liberty, South San Francisco, member of the Association's public relations committee, "this dramatic film illustrates the great strides which medical science has made for heart surgery. The research funds given by the American public to the American Heart Association and its many chapters made possible the surgery technique which was required for Tommy Hunter."

The original telecast on KPIX was part of the "House Call" series shown in cooperation with the San Francisco Medical Society.

Neighborly Feud On Patio Cover Finally Ends

A split vote of the council Monday night ended a feud in Westlake between two neighbors on Westdale avenue. Ended it from the city's standpoint, anyway.

On motion of Edward Dennis, supported by Bob St. Clair and Francis Pacelli, Stuart Bartz, of 1 Westdale, was granted a use permit to erect a plastic patio cover over his six-foot high cement block fence which borders on the property of his neighbor, Julio J. Profumo, of 3 Westdale.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi and Councilman Joseph Verducci voted "no." They wanted the problem reverted again to the planning commission for another look-see.

Bartz, represented by Attorney Jack Dooling, first sought the use permit in September of 1957. The planning commission at that time turned it down, objecting mainly because Bartz intended to install iron angle bars as part of the cover. They held such a structure would be detrimental to his neighbors, particularly Profumo's home.

Profumo, who maintains the patio cover blocks his side entrance view of his home from the corner of the street and is excessive in height, asked the council to heed the action of the planners. Pacelli thought returning the matter to the planners was a good move, but he failed to get a second Monday to this motion.

Dennis felt the matter had been kicked around long enough and a decision was necessary.

Actually, Bartz who changed his plans and eliminated the angle irons (which would have made the fence and cover 7-feet, 3-inches in height), Monday showed revised plans which complied with city regulations on home additions.

Profumo, however, still feels the original and only interpretation of the planning commission that the patio cover would be detrimental to his property's value was what the council should have in mind.

Dooling showed the council signatures of 37 neighbors of Bartz who didn't have any objections to his plans. Profumo said these signers naturally weren't as concerned as he was since their property was not directly involved.

The Westlake Improvement Association took no stand in the issue, having referred the controversy from the offset to the city.

Rabbit Asks Kite Safety

Bugs Bunny, that carrot-eating "wabbit" of comic strip fame, has taken time out to join PG&E in a plea for safe kite flying.

PG&E has asked Bugs to remind everyone of eight safety rules in their "Kite Fun Book" now available at all PG&E offices. Here is the list:

1. Never fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail.
2. Never use tinsel string, wire, or any twine that has a metal in it.
3. Never fly a kite in the rain.
4. Never run across streets or highways while flying a kite.
5. Never fly a kite over TV or radio aerials.
6. Never fly a kite near electric power lines.
7. Never pull on the string or climb a pole to loosen a snagged kite.
8. Never touch fallen electric wires.

For those interested in building their own kites, the book also features complete plans for inexpensive models which are practically guaranteed to go into orbit.

Future To Be Discussed By Guidance Panel

The winter conference of the Northern California Guidance Association will be held this Saturday at the Luther Burbank Junior High School at 325 La Grande avenue in San Francisco. Some of the questions to be discussed are:

Is guidance a "frill" to a rocket-shaped, moon-destined educational system? Who cares? And how do those who do care communicate the value of their services to administrators, students, parents, and faculty?

Discussions will be from 9:30 a.m. until noon by a panel of vitally interested people: an administrator, Dr. Lane DeLara, assistant superintendent of Junior High Schools of San Francisco; a parent, Mrs. Tony Patch, past president of PTA and a member of the State Board of Education; a student, Mirke Milicevich, assistant dean of students, University of California, Berkeley; and Ralph Davis, a faculty member of the Kennilworth Junior High School in Petaluma.

From 12 to 1 p.m. luncheon will be served in the school cafeteria with entertainment provided by the faculty of the Everett Junior High School of San Francisco. A short business meeting will follow the luncheon.

At the afternoon session from 1:30 until 3 p.m., Anne Rambo, who is the Relations with Schools Representative with the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation in Sunnyvale, will be the speaker. She will discuss the qualifications for space age counselors.

The cost of the luncheon will be $2. Checks should be made out to the Northern California Guidance Association.

'Jumping' Episode Causes Two-Car Crash On Skyline

A 35-year-old welder was cited for driving without due caution Sunday about 5 p.m. after his station wagon rammed another northbound car on Skyline boulevard a mile south of Westmoor avenue.

Antonio Jojola, of 333 San Jose avenue, San Francisco, said he was trying to keep his brother-in-law from "jumping out of my car" when the accident occurred.

Jojola's vehicle, proceeding in the fast lane, clobbered the side and rear end of one driven by Thomas F. Kelly, 53, San Francisco business representative for the Hospital and Business Institution Workers Union. Kelly was cleared of liability.

Alcario Moleno, 59, brother-in-law of Jojola, was taken to Junipero Serra Hospital for treatment of bruises he suffered in the freak mishap. Explanation of the "jumping" episode was not given on the police report.

In 1956, for the first time in history, more than a billion tons of crude oil and its products were transported within the United States, reports the National Automobile Club.

COUNTY-WIDE EFFORT

Heart Association Opens Annual Drive For Funds Thru The Mail

"Thanks to You" keynotes the San Mateo County Heart Association's appeal for research funds today—through a county-wide mass mailing to every Peninsula family.

"Actually, nothing could be more personal than one's heart and the hearts of your family and friends," said Abigail Van Buren, Heart Fund chairman for San Mateo county. "Every moment of our lives affects a heart — your's or someone else's. And only through heart research can the chances of living longer and more productively be increased."

Miss Van Buren — herself a San Mateo resident, the wife of Morton B. Phillips and mother of two children — said that "only thanks to everyone's financial assistance can research, professional and public education, and community service programs help physicians and scientists conquer heart disease."

Amplifying the local programming of the San Mateo County Heart Association, Dr. Leo S. Bell, San Mateo, president of the association, cited the long-range investigation by Dr. Ralph W. Brauer, of San Mateo, on the new knowledge of liver function in the treatment of congestive heart failure and high blood pressure; the study of heart sounds and murmurs by Dr. Marvin L. Auerback, San Mateo; SEARCH, a demonstration program, to study and advise into resources for chronic illness by helping individual patients obtain rehabilitative care; professional education programs for San Mateo county physicians and nurses; county-wide high school research training programs; purchases of cardiac hospital equipment; and staging of work simplification programs for busy homemakers.

"Your dollars invested in the San Mateo County Heart Association reap rich dividends," said Dr. Jerome H. Diamond, Pacifica, member of the association's board of directors.

"Almost every day we read about cardiac cases where new surgery techniques make possible the successful performance of a rare heart operation. These instances often crop up right in our own neighborhood. Importantly, your financial support makes these new techniques and the saving of lives possible."

Nationwide as well as local benefits from the Heart Fund have included such remarkable achievements as heart repair surgery which was impossible a few years ago, Dr. Bell pointed out. New methods of treatment are prolonging the lives of heart victims. Moreover, some forms of heart disease can now be prevented, notably rheumatic heart disease which formerly was childhood's greatest crippler, he said.

Heart association people pointed out that Sunday, February 15, is being observed nationally as "Heart Sunday," with several million door-to-door volunteers soliciting funds. "San Mateo county will not have a door-to-door campaign. This supplemental fund-raising drive has been authorized by the United Crusade and the appeal is being made directly to the public through our mail effort," it was explained.

"With people always on the move, it is possible that a few families in the county may not receive the Heart Fund mailer," Richard Liberty, South San Francisco, member of the association's public relations committee said. "Contributions can still be sent directly to the heart association at 181 Second avenue in San Mateo."

Miss Van Buren echoed the suggestion: "In affairs of the heart, nothing is so important as your financial support of the San Mateo County Heart Association."

Medical Student Lectures To Thornton Kids

Fourth-fifth grade teacher Carolyn Miller and fifth-sixth grade teacher Claire Ballou of Thornton School enriched their classes' current study of the human body by inviting a resource person of the community to address their children.

Richard Miller, medical student who will receive his doctor's degree in medicine this June, spoke to the combined classes about the individual role of the body's vital organs.

Miller supplemented his presentation with such visual aids as a model heart, X-rays of the lungs and heart, and a stethescope. Following the presentation the children were invited to ask questions and to further examine the visual aids.

Questions, Answers For Service Vets

Veterans Adminstration Information Service, 49 Fourth street, San Francisco, supplied these helpful questions and answers this week for former servicemen and women.

Q—I received my discharge nearly three years ago, at which time I was eligible for complete separation. Instead, I reenlisted immediately. It's almost time for my second discharge. I realize if I have to use my earlier discharge as the base date my three-year deadline for starting GI training will be over when I come out. Can I use my second discharge as the base from which to figure my training deadline?

A—No. Since you were eligible for complete separation at the time of your earlier discharge, you might have stayed out of service, your three years in which to start training must be based on that separation—not the one you are expecting.

Q—I understand I can make extra payments on my GI loan without having to pay a penalty charge. Suppose I do, and later on find I am hard-pressed for money. Could the extra money I had paid in be used for current payments?

A—If your lender agrees, yes. Extra principal already paid may in that case be re-applied to regular payments in order to prevent the loan from going into default.

Q—Does VA grant pensions based solely on age to veterans of World Wars I and II, or the Korea conflict?

A—No. Age alone is not a sufficient reason for pension. Pensions generally may be paid to war veterans, permanently disabled from nonservice-connected causes, whose income do not exceed $1400 if single, or $2700 if married or with a minor child.

Q—I'm a Korea veteran drawing compensation for a service-connected disability. Is there any limit on what I can earn and still get my compensation payments?

A—There is no limit. Regardless of your earnings, your service-connected compensation is not affected and will not be reduced. Ceilings on income only to pensions, paid to veterans for total and permanent nonservice-connected disabilities.

Vets: Beware Of Strangers On Home Loans

Veterans who get behind in payments on their GI home loans should check carefully any offers strangers may make to supply the delinquent payments if the veterans will "sign here."

J. Glenn Corbitt, manager of the VA Regional Office in San Francisco, warned veterans to check immediately with their mortgage holders to determine whether or not the offer is legitimate.

In some parts of the nation, he said, a flim-flam practice called "milking" has been revived. An offer to pay delinquent installments is made if the veteran will sign an "acknowledgment." Later the veteran learns he has signed a deed and must "buy" his property back at a higher price.

In another version, entire neighborhoods are canvassed to learn which veterans are having trouble meeting their GI loan payments. Then a "salesman" will offer each veteran a nominal amount for his equity, plus the privilege of buying another home in a lower cost development.

His signature is secured on a deed giving the right of possession in 60 days.

Later he is advised that no lower cost homes are available and he now faces eviction from the home he has sold.

These practices, though the intent is unethical, are conducted in such a manner as to make them legal, Corbitt pointed out.

The United States took formal possession of Wake Island January 17, 1899.

Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of JEFFERSON UNION HIGH School District, of San Mateo County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $5,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the District on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the District. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

Don't get caught with your HOUSEPOWER DOWN!

There is only one chance in five that your home has full HOUSEPOWER. It was wired properly when it was built; but new appliances have been added—an electric blanket here, a new lamp there, power tools in the workshop. Now, in four homes out of five—even relatively new ones—the capacity of the wiring is no longer equal to the task of supplying needed current.

One of the dangers of low HOUSEPOWER is overloading. Overloaded wires heat up. In time the insulation is baked and falls away, exposing the wire and creating a fire danger. Overloading also causes electric motors to labor, heat up and eventually burn out or burst into flame.

Don't get caught with your HOUSEPOWER down. You can easily be assured of safety, economy and convenience—you can live better electrically—with full HOUSEPOWER. Have your home rated today . . .

Anniversary Dinner To Launch Temple Baptist's Celebration

An anniversary dinner will initiate events in celebration of the 70th anniversary of the Temple Baptist Church, 3355 Nineteenth avenue. The dinner will be held this Saturady evening, February 14, at 5 o'clock in Mission Masonic Temple, 2668 Mission street, with special anniversary services at the church this Sunday, Februray 15, at the 11 a.m. worship hour and 3 p.m.

Organization of the church took place on February 15, 1889. The first church building, located at 10th and Folsom streets, was completely destroyed by the earthquake and fire of 1906. A second building on 17th street near Valencia served quite adequately until 1945, when the moving of the church members to newer areas of the city resulted in the purchase of a new site west of the Peaks. The present building on 19th avenue at Stonestown was completed in 1947.

Rev. M. G. Berglund, who has served as pastor of the church the past 16 years, will preach the anniversary sermon at the morning worship service Sunday. Both Chancel and Children's Choirs will sing under the direction of Alton Swedberg of Westlake. Dr. Earl Smith, general secretary of the Bay Cities Baptist Union, will be the speaker at Saturday evening's dinner, and Eevrett W. Carlson, of Atherton, whose family for two generations back figured promintly in the history of the church, will be master of ceremonies.

Dean Of Women Honored By Jeff High PTA

An honorary Life Membership was made by the Jefferson High School PTA to Miss Ada Wood, Dean of Girls, during last Thursday's Founders' Night ceremonies.

This is the highest honor given by the PTA to a person who has rendered long and outstanding service to children and youth.

Miss Wood has devoted herself enthusiastically and wholeheartedly to the task at hand by helping as many girls as possible to know themselves better, and counseling them in the choice of courses.

Being able to get a high school education is a real privilege, in her estimation. "The ones who abuse this privilege and cut school, are the real problems," she says.

Miss Wood was born in New York, attended high school in Oakland, received her A.B. degree from U.C. and her master's and doctor's degrees from Stanford, where she is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Honorary Society. Before becoming dean, she spent four years in the Navy, and is now in the reserves. She taught French and English at Pacific Grove in Monterey County, and has been at Jefferson High since 1952.

Beginning Folk-Dancing Class Starts

The lessons in beginning folk dancing start this Wednesday night at Daly City War Memorial Community Center on Mission Street, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

This is the last series for beginners until next September, and the only series to be held on a Wednesday.

Definite progress is made each week. To prevent frustration and confusion, the beginner is advised to start the first week if possible and not later than the second week. For that reason, registrations will be closed after February 18. The entire three-month series costs only $2 per couple.

The big folk dance party scheduled for Mothers Day, May 10, is planned for the beginning and intermediate level. All who complete this beginners course will actually participate in at least half of the dances on the program and will also be ready to enter the next class for intermediates to start in September.

INDIANS PLUNGE DEEPER IN STANDINGS

Injury Puts Jeff Ace Ernie Howren Out For Season . . . Tribe Is Hurting

With ace forward Ernie Howren out for the season and his high-scoring partner Roy Reitz nursing a knee injury, Coach Mike Orlich isn't too happy as his Jeff High varsity cagers continue their blistering Peninsula League schedule this week.

The Indians, 3-6 in the loop after losing to Burlingame (63-41) and lowly Mills (36-34) last week, host strong San Mateo this Wednesday and powerful Capuchino this Friday night.

Howren, among the league's top scorers, wrecked ligaments in his right knee three minutes into the Burlingame game. He was still in the hospital as this was written.

Reitz, also a big tallier and all-league nominee, banged his knee against Burlingame in the fourth quarter. He sat out the first half of Friday's tilt with Mills. With Ernie and Roy both missing, Jeff's offense virtually was nil.

Reitz managed 13 points against Burlingame, but only got 4 in his limited role against Mills. Guard Jack Horn paced the Tribe in the latter contest with 13 points — enough to make it a close ball game.

Jeff and Mills were 32-all at the end of regulation time. The Indians went ahead in overtime by a bucket, but Mills, paced by Bob Jeffries with 16, bagged a field goal and two game-winning free throws.

If Reitz isn't able to go this week, Orlich's lineup will find George Ojakian and Alan Lee at forwards, Pete Garcia at center, and Horn and Art Banos at guards. Banos got 9 points and Lee 8 against Burlingame.

Despite the varsity nosedive, all is not dismal on the Jeff basketball front. Rick Warren's Indian lightweights last week continued their climb in the first division by outlasting Burlingame, 32-26, and by slaughtering Mills, 61-30. This gave Warren's hustlers a 5-4 record and longshot title hopes.

Gary Molossi, high along with Pat Bell against Burlingame, potted 17 points in the rout over Mills. Tony DiVirgilio and Mike Wills were next high with 13 and 10 points against the Millbrae team.

Next week, Orlich and Warren escort their troops to Westmoor for a Friday night doubleheader against the Ram quintets. First game begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Sarto Juniors Meet New Pisa At Marchbanks

The Joe Sarto AC Juniors return to their "home" field—Marchbanks Park—this Sunday at 2 p.m. to meet an old rival, the New Pisa nine.

Andy Pilara's Sarto outfit hasn't lost a game at Marchbanks during this winter campaign. Last Sunday the locals battled the Machinists Union squad to a 3-3 tie over seven innings. The game was called due to extreme cold weather.

Sarto's team is loaded with standouts from San Francisco's high school baseball league.

Public is encouraged to attend Sunday's game here.

Thirties Advance

RAM VARSITY CAGERS DROP TWO MORE TILTS, LIGHTWEIGHTS WIN

Westmoor's varsity cagers lost twice last week, but the Ram lightweights took a pair to advance in Peninsula League standings.

Coach Tony Giammona's varsity, going this week against South City and Hillsdale in road scraps, last week lost to San Mateo, 55-42, and to tied-for-first Burlingame, 52-32. This gave the DC five a 2-7 record.

Coach Byron Van Alstyne's Ram 30's romped over San Mateo, 40-24, and tripped Burlingame, 42-35, to make it 4-5 for the year.

Free throws killed Giammona's crew against San Mateo. The Rams missed 17 charity tosses.

Senior guard Ross Holmgren was high against the Mateans with 14 points. Soph center Clark Beerman contributed 11. Gary Twitty led Westmoor with 11 against talented Burlingame.

Van Alstyne's fast-closing lightweights were paced by Terry Christman with 15 and Barry Krohn with 13 in stomping San Mateo. Andy Saranchock was high against the Burlingame lightweights with 15 big points.

The Westmoor teams play SSF there this Wednesday, followed by a Friday night clash in San Mateo with Hillsdale. Friday next week, Westmoor hosts crosstown rival Jeff.

BOB NIELSON, JIM AHERN LEAD JEFF MATMEN IN PL FINALS

Joe McGrath's Jeff High wrestling team will make a strong bid in the Peninsula League championship meet this Saturday at San Mateo High School gym.

The Indians, 5-6 in loop standings after losing a 34-12 decision to South City last week, have two top contenders for individual titles.

Heading the locals is 175-pounder Bob Nielson, the blonde football ace who has a 10-1 record and has reversed his only defeat. Jim Ahern, 154-pound division, also is a strong candidate. He's 8-3 for the year.

Nielson and Ahern decisioned their SSF foes last week in impressive style. SSF ranks with San Mateo and Capuchino as the league's powerhouses.

Other wins for Jeff against SSF were scored by Tom Coop, 191-pound class, and Gino Bertolini, unlimited division.

The Indians engaged Mills down there this Tuesday. Results were not available.

McGrath believes Nielson has the best chance in the league showdown. Ahern, however, has improved steadily and could come home with a title.

PAL Kids, Dads Eye Swimming Night At Jeff

The Police Athletic League has reserved the Jefferson High pool on Saturday night, February 28, for a "Boys and Dads" swimming session starting at 7 o'clock.

All PAL members, their dads, and prospective members are welcome, according to PAL President John Coleman. He said the swim party soon will become a monthly PAL feature.

PAL is open to all Daly City area boys of ages 8 to 18. The group also would like to sponsor a swimming night at Jeff for girls of the same ages.

Persons requesting further information on the swimming project should call Coleman at PL 5-0850 or PL 5-6075.

Ram Wrestlers Defeat Mills By 31-19 Tally

Westmoor High's wrestling squad, eager for this Saturday's league championships at San Mateo, picked up their fourth win in 11 dual meets here Friday by beating Mills High, 31-19.

The Rams of Coach Will Stensland and aide Jim Jordan wound up their schedule Tuesday against South City here—results not known at press time.

Westmoor's top men for the Peninsula League affair are unbeaten Glen Stenstrom, 103 pounds; Dave Vogl, 154 pounds; Bob Roller, 175 pounds, and Jerry Evans, unlimited division.

Vogl and Evans have lost but once this season. Roller has won 7 of 11 matches.

Unbeaten San Mateo, South City and Capuchino are the teams to beat in Saturday's finals. Jeff High also is strong with 154-pounder Jim Ahern and 175-pounder Bob Nielson.

Westmoor winners against Mills were:
